TAYLOR WILL ACCEPT

Seems To Be the Opinion of the Politicians in the Blue Grass State.

WANTS AN HONEST ELECTION LAW.

Taylor Takes the Agreement Under Consideration and Will Give His Decision Today—Senator Blackburn's Views—Session of the Legislature Held in London—Expressions of Sympathy for Goebel—Military Orders Countermanded.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 7.—Whether it shall be war or peace in Kentucky rests with Governor Taylor alone. The question has been in his mind all day, and he declared that he had reached no decision, and will announce none before today. The text of the agreement reached by the Louisville conference was brought to him yesterday morning by a committee consisting of General Dan Lindsay, T. H. Baker and T. L. Edelen. They handed Governor Taylor a copy of the agreement, were closeted with him for a short time and then departed. As they left the building Baker remarked: "I hope and believe that the entire matter will be amicably adjusted. More than this I am unable to say at the present time."

Think Taylor Will Accept. General Lindsay and Edelen spoke in similar terms, and while all expressed themselves as reasonably confident that Governor Taylor would acquiesce in the terms of the agreement, they all desired to be understood as saying that they had no authoritative reason from Governor Taylor for entertaining the belief they expressed.

Wants an Honest Election Law. Early in the morning, before he had received a copy of the agreement, Governor Taylor discussed the conditions as he understood them to be before receiving official notice, and said: "Under no circumstances will I discuss the agreement before a copy of it has reached me. It would be most unfair, and most discourteous for me to do so. Speaking generally, however, I would say that if an agreement can be made by which an election law will be given to the people of Kentucky, through the operation of which a fair election and an honest count are assured to the citizens of this state, no personal ambition of mine will be allowed to stand in the way."

TROUBLE WILL BE AVOIDED. Blackburn Thinks Taylor Will Accept the Louisville Agreement.

Senator Blackburn, who returned from Louisville yesterday morning, expressed himself last night as being confident that the entire trouble would be settled peacefully. "It is entirely natural," he said, "that the other side should wish to take time to consider the agreement, and to prepare its statement to be issued at the same time the signature is affixed. I have no knowledge of what will be done, but I firmly believe that the agreement will be accepted substantially as adopted by the members of the Louisville conference, and that all chance of trouble will be avoided."

When asked for his opinion of the consequences should Governor Taylor decline to accept the agreement Senator Blackburn said: "That is a question I do not care to discuss nor even think about. If no settlement is made now, it will lead to endless complications before the end is reached."

There is not in the city of Frankfort a single member of the legislature. The Republicans are all at London, and the Democrats in places along the border of the state, from where it will be easy to escape should any attempt be made by the military to arrest and convey them to London. But such Republicans of prominence as are here seem inclined to believe that Governor Taylor will accept the agreement. They all admit, however, that he has given as yet no oral or written evidence of his intention.

Frankfort yesterday enjoyed at least one day of quiet, the first it has experienced since the Goebel-Taylor contest began three weeks ago. The town was bare of politicians, there was no excitement in the streets, and no crowds around the corners, and no throngs in the lobbies of the Capitol hotel. It was a breathing spell fully appreciated by the citizens of the city.

THE LEGISLATORS MEET. Both Branch Hold a Short Session at London, Ky.

London, Ky., Feb. 7.—The little two-story brick Laurel County Seminary building, which has stood upon a knoll in the outskirts of London for almost fifty years, yesterday added another page to its history when the brief session of the Kentucky legislature was held within its walls. At 12:10 o'clock the senators were called to order by Senator Hayes, a Brown county Democrat. Chairman Hayes made a brief address in which he pointed out that this was a session of the legislature of the gravest concern and its deliberations should be transacted with the greatest concern.

The first business was the election of a president pro tem., in the absence of Lieutenant Governor Marshall, and Senator Jolly, of Hancock county, who was selected at the caucus night before last, was elected. Resolutions of respect on the death of their colleague, Senator Goebel, were adopted and the senate adjourned in respect to him at 12:22 o'clock, to meet today at noon.

Temporary Chairman Slack rapped the house to order at 12:05 o'clock. He announced that owing to the absence of Speaker Trimble, Democrat, a speaker pro tem. must be selected. Representative Bethurum was elected unanimously. Resolutions deploring the death of William Goebel were adopted and then in respect to him the house at 12:20 adjourned till today at noon.

Arrangements for Goebel's Funeral. Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 7.—A meeting of Frankfort citizens was held at the court house last night and arrangements were made for public observation of the funeral of Governor Goebel. All business people of the city were asked to close Thursday and drape their buildings in black. All bells of public institutions were ordered tolled during the funeral services. Hon. James Andrew Scott presided over the meeting.

Orders for Militia Countermanded. Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 7.—Orders for additional militia are said to have been countermanded. A number of companies of the state guard have been holding themselves in readiness to move to the capital. The action is construed by Democrats as indicating a disposition on the part of Governor Taylor to acquiesce in the agreement of attorneys in Louisville yesterday morning.

REFINERY CLOSED DOWN. Too Much Sugar on Hand Causes a Suspension of Operation.

New York, Feb. 7.—The New York Evening Post says: It was stated positively in Jersey City yesterday that the American Sugar Refinery company is preparing to shut down its Jersey City plant which employs 2,000 men. The men will quit work within three days. The stopping of the plant is due to an oversupply of refined sugar. The warehouses in Jersey City and Brooklyn are all overstocked. The refinery work was stopped on Saturday night last, but the men have since been at work getting out the finished product on hand.

BRITISH LOSE FIVE MEN

SMALL DETACHMENT AMBUSHED

And Cavalry Is Sent to Their Assistance, Which Is Beaten Back—Cannonading at Ladysmith.

Modder Spruit, Monday, Feb. 5.—On Saturday the Pretoria corps discovered a party of British from Ladysmith entrenched at a railroad bridge protecting a number of coolies who were cutting grass. A party of Boers dispatched to the scene was attacked from the trenches and all retreated except four, who, hiding, permitted the British to advance to within fifty yards, when they fired a volley, killing three men. This was seen from the British fort, which fired a shell and sent cavalry to assist the British. The Boers beat these back, killing two men.

Modder Spruit, Feb. 6.—Messages from Ladysmith, dated yesterday, Feb. 5, say continuous cannonading has been proceeding since 5 o'clock in the morning, with the occasional roar of a long gun. The firing, it is added, continues.

London, Feb. 7, 4:20 a. m.—Lord Roberts has caused to be distributed in the towns bordering upon the invaded colonial territory an invitation to Free Staters and Transvaalers to go into the desert, offering them good treatment and a restoration to their farms on the British occupation of republican territory. The manifesto guarantees that those bringing horses can sell them. Foreigners will have their passage paid to Europe. Colonial rebels are advised to surrender in preference to being taken prisoners.

Not a word has been received from the correspondents with General Buller for three days. It is as though Natal had been wiped off the map, excepting the heliogram from Ladysmith saying that the Boers are cannonading and that "fighting is going on." General Macdonald, with 4,000 infantry, cavalry and artillery, threatens the Boer right at Magersfontein. This is the first sign of activity on the part of Lord Methuen for some weeks and doubtless has relation to the movements of the British further east.

SALOONS AGAIN CLOSING.

No Protection Given Them by the Recent Supreme Court Decision.

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 7.—The saloons in this city are again closing, having been instructed that they are given no protection by the stay order of the supreme court. This was understood to be a general order applying to all saloons operating under void consent petitions. Now it develops the order was intended to have no general effect and applies only to the case in which it was issued. Several wholesale liquor houses removed their stocks to places of safe keeping so they could not be ordered destroyed. In the legislature Senator Hubbard, of Sioux City, has submitted an outline of curative legislation.

GOMPERS IN CUBA.

Given a Reception by Havana Workmen at Their Headquarters.

Havana, Feb. 7.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who arrived here recently from New York, was yesterday given a reception by the Havana workmen at their headquarters.

Gompers, it is said, intends to explain to the Cuban workmen the methods employed by the workmen of the United States, and to aid in obtaining laws looking to the protection of the lives of employees, the sanitary inspection of workshops and factories and the prohibition of child labor.

Mrs. Lillie Devereux Blake has announced her candidacy for the presidency of the National Woman Suffrage association, whose national convention will meet at Washington tomorrow.

TALK ON PHILIPPINE

Again Occupies the Attention of the Senate and House of Representatives.

DIPLOMATIC BILL IS DISCUSSED

And Will Be Taken Up Today for Amendment—Discussion of an Amendment to the North Carolina Constitution—Senate Investigating Committee Hears Witnesses in the Clark Senatorial Bribery Case—Miscellaneous News Notes.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The Philippine question again occupied the attention of the house yesterday with a slight digression concerning the war in South Africa. The feature of the debate was the speech of Williams of Mississippi, who presented an argument against the annexation of the Philippines which attracted much attention. It was devoted almost entirely to the commercial aspects of the acquisition, holding that the absorption of the islands would be ultimately ruinous to the American producers of cotton, rice, tobacco, hemp and sugar.

Diplomatic Bill Discussed. Morris of Minnesota made an exhaustive legal argument in support of the right to hold and govern the islands. The other speakers were Messrs. Gibson of Tennessee, W. A. and H. C. Smith of Michigan, Cochran of Missouri and Neville of Nebraska. The general debate on the diplomatic bill closed yesterday and today it will be taken up for amendment under the five-minute rule.

FILIPINOS SHOULD HAVE FREEDOM.

Senator Caffery Says the United States Should Make Them Independent.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Until the financial measure now pending before the senate shall have been disposed of finally it will be considered by the senate every legislative day to the exclusion of all except purely routine business. This agreement will have the effect of cutting off all debate on the Philippine question or other matters except by unanimous consent of the senate, unless senators choose to discuss other questions in the time they devote to the financial bill.

McCaferly of Louisiana concluded his speech on the Philippine question, holding that the United States ought to restore in the islands the status quo and then confer independence upon the Filipinos. Butler of North Carolina discussed at length the proposed amendment to the constitution of North Carolina in answer to speeches delivered by Senators Morgan, McEnery and Money.

CLARK BRIBERY CASE.

Senate Committee Hears Witnesses in Connection with the Investigation.

Washington, Feb. 7.—A number of witnesses were before the senate committee on privileges and elections yesterday in connection with the investigation of the election of Hon. W. A. Clark to the senate from Montana. Among those were State Senator Cullen, State Representative McLaughlin, Ben Falk and Harry Ringwalt. Cullen testified that previous to the meeting of the legislature Marcus Daly had told him that if Clark was elected to the senate he should not take his seat and that his supporters would be denounced as bribe takers.

McLaughlin was put on to impeach the testimony of Speaker Stiff, of the sale of timber lands to Clark just before the opening of the session of the legislature. He said that he had sold his land to Clark for $24,000 or much less than its proper valuation; that he made the sale through Bickford and that in making it he had not discussed the United States senatorial contest with Bickford.

Rinwalt told of a conversation which he had with Whiteside before the meeting of the legislature in which the latter had told him that there was to be a big sensation in connection with Clark's senatorial race and that $50,000 would be spent in it. During the day the letter from Bickford, which was opened in Campbell's office while in the hands of Ben Hill, was put in as evidence. The committee declined to go into correlative questions bearing upon the legislative election in Montana in 1890.

Master Painters in Session.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The sixteenth annual convention of the Master Painters and Decorators of the United States began here yesterday with between 200 and 300 delegates and representatives present.

Bill to Extend Pension Laws.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, yesterday introduced a bill extending the pension laws to persons who served in the civil war for only one month.

William Klaus, of Fish Creek, will run a daily stage line between Menominee and Ash Creek to commence trips at once. Door county products are marketed here.

CARSON CAUSES A SURPRISE.

Fugitive Under Bonds, He Appears in Court and Furnishes Bail.

Shelbyville, Ind., Feb. 7.—Last week a grand jury summons was issued for ex-County Auditor E. T. Carson. He could not be found. An indictment was returned charging him with theft of a condensed ledger from his office and, to the surprise of all, yesterday he walked into court, deposited two $1,000 bills, his bond being fixed at $2,000.

It was reported that Carson had left his home in Fairland on a hand car and when depositing his bond he remarked that he would like an immediate trial, as his train was one which could not wait on one too long. The trial has not been set. The grand jury has adjourned after finding nineteen indictments against Democrats, who are charged with plundering the county treasury in sums ranging from $88 to $2,500. Impeachment cases of Commissioners Amos and Cherry will be called before Special Judge Stanford on Monday next.

RAILWAY PROPERTY SOLD.

Peoria, Decatur and Evansville Bought by Central Trust Company.

Mattoon, Ills., Feb. 7.—The Peoria, Decatur and Evansville railroad was sold in this city yesterday by Special Master in Chancery Brown, of Springfield, Ills., to Adrain H. Joline, representing the Central Trust company of New York. The bid on the Evansville division was $1,895,000. On the Peoria division the bid was $1,586,000. It is inferred that the Illinois Central interests were behind the bid.

A protest was filed by the Emerson Chamberlain party, which yesterday secured permission from an Indiana court at Indianapolis, to file an intervening petition against the sale of the road under the foreclosure proceedings. No notice of the protest made yesterday was taken, in a legal sense.

TWO MINERS KILLED.

Fatal Result of a Dynamite Explosion in a Mine.

Crystal Falls, Mich., Feb. 7.—Two men were literally blown to pieces yesterday by the explosion of a dynamite magazine underground at the Crystal Falls mine. The men were preparing some powder for blasting when through some unknown reason the dynamite they were working with exploded, causing the seven boxes in the magazine to explode. About a powder box of fragments were found.

No damage was done to the mine, the magazine being in an unused portion. The names of the men are John Jacobson and Joe Mackl. They were both married men and leave families.

Smallpox at Brazil.

Brazil, Ind., Feb. 7.—Yesterday Dr. Hurty, secretary of the state medical board, was here and served notice, issued by the state medical board, on the county commissioners to take action at once to stop the spread of smallpox in the county. In compliance the commissioners appointed the deputies to meet at the local medical boards. Several new cases have developed, and County Commissioner David Keller is confined to his bed with the malady. Auditor Stigler issued a call for the county council to meet and appropriate funds to cover expenses.

To Bid for the Ore Trade.

Houghton, Mich., Feb. 7.—The Escanaba and Superior railway, running from North Escanaba partly to the intended terminus at Republic, will be absorbed by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul system, which will build big ore docks at North Escanaba, at the mouth of the Escanaba river, and make a strong bid for the ore-carrying trade.

HENRY BROWN WAIVED EXAMINATION.

Had Been Arrested on Charge of Burglarizing Turnbull's House and Attempting to Kill.

The Clue which Led to his Capture Was a Pair of Shoes.

Constable P. W. Ross and special officer Sweet, of Ann Arbor, have made an important arrest, in the apprehending of Henry Brown, of Whitmore Lake, whom they believe is the individual who burglarized the residence of Adam Turnbull, of this city on the night of Nov. 17th, 1898. Officers Ross and Sweet have been quietly working on the case since the burglary occurred, but it was not until Tuesday evening, that their evidence was in proper shape to permit of an arrest. Brown was brought to the city by Constable Ross this morning and taken before Justice Joslyn. He waived examination and was bound over to the Circuit Court under $300 bail.

The burglary is well remembered. On the night of Nov. 17, 1898, Adam Turnbull, superintendent of the city water works plant, was awakened from a sound sleep by noises proceeding from the kitchen. He hastily arose and descended to that part of the house, but could see nothing of a suspicious nature until he peered from a window when he caught a glimpse of two men passing through the yard to the front of the house. He completed his investigations in the kitchen and then proceeded to the front rooms, from which he could hear repetition of the sounds which had aroused him. On opening the door into the parlor Mr. Turnbull saw a man in the room and another just on the point of entering through the window. With the exclamation—"What are you doing here!" he started toward the pair when the individual in the window disappeared from view on the outside, and the miscreant in the room discharged a revolver and then made a flying leap upon the window sill and another to the ground. The bullet from the burglar's revolver whizzed past Mr. Turnbull's head and buried itself in the casing of the door behind him.

The burglars left one important clue to their identity in a pair of shoes dropped by one of the mauraders who fired, and in fact it was through these articles that Ross and Sweet came to arrest Brown. On account of the darkness and the short space of time in which the affair occurred Mr. Turnbull was unable to fix in his mind a single peculiarity of the appearance of the two men; except that the one in the house was of medium height.

When the burglary and shooting came to the attention of the officers the shoes were seized upon as a divining rod to locate one at least of the culprits, and were taken to every shoemaker in Ypsilanti and surrounding towns. None of the bootgear members identified the tap soles as their work, and it was consequently believed that the owner of the shoes could never be traced down. Officers Sweet and Ross stuck to the trail however, with the result above recorded.

The principal witness officers Ross and Sweet will produce is Arthur Shepherd, of Ann Arbor. Some time before Nov. 17th, Mr. Shepherd purchased a wagon from Henry Brown, of Whitmore Lake, which when he took possession of it contained a pair of shoes and some articles of clothing. Brown said he didn't have time to take the shoes and clothing with him just then, but that he would come for them later. Shepherd therefore allowed the shoes and clothing to remain in the wagon, but states that Brown applied for them some time later, but before Nov. 17th; and that they were given to him. Shepherd says he examined the shoes while they were in the wagon and he now positively identifies the pair left in Turnbull's house as those claimed by Brown.

Important evidence will be given by officer Sweet, who says he himself has seen Brown wearing the shoes left by the burglar. Brown strongly protests his innocence and claims he can prove an alibi.

If Brown is indeed proven to be the miscreant who shot at Turnbull, officers Ross and Sweet will have a very clever feat to their credit. The case has been worked up by Ross and Sweet alone and to them is due the honor. They worked in harmony and contributed equally to the result.

WHITE IS BEING EXAMINED.

Mrs. Johnson Testifies Against Her Husband.

The Case Will Probably Go to the Circuit Court.

The examination of Frank White, colored, charged with assault upon Charles Johnson, with intent to do great bodily harm, was taken up in Justice Joslyn's court this morning and afternoon. In view of the fact that the case will in all probability come before the circuit court the testimony was recorded, and as it was necessary to rely upon a long hand stenographer, this materially delayed the proceedings. In consequence of this delay the entire morning session was occupied with two witnesses, Charles Johnson and his wife.

Said Charles Johnson, the complaining witness, on the stand:

"I left Ypsilanti ten weeks ago Thursday on account of a family quarrel, and staid in Windsor until last Saturday evening. I returned to the city about 8 o'clock and went at once to my home. The house was locked up and I went back down town. I returned about 10:30. Still there was no one at home, so I went back again, but came around again about 11, when I saw a light in the front room and heard my wife's voice. I tried the door and found it locked; but my wife called out 'there's Charlie.' The door was thrown open, and Frank White began shooting a revolver. Just then my wife came out of the back door calling 'murder,' so I ran up to her and told her not to be afraid as I was there to protect not to hurt her. I spoke to my wife. White came out of the back door with a club in his hand, and before I could do anything he knocked me down. I got up and went away without having at any time tried to hurt anyone. One of the shots White fired struck me in the shoulder and made a slight wound."

Mrs. Johnson's story was a very different one from that of her husband. She stated that her husband had left her without any money for nearly three weeks; that he came back suddenly Saturday night and had broken in the door and rushed into the house with a cord-wood stick raised above his head.

In terror for her life, she said she called on Frank White, who was calling on her sister, Mary Scott, for help and that he responded by drawing a revolver and shooting three times. She had then run out the back door and White and her husband had proceeded to engage in a tussle in the yard. She regarded her husband as the aggressor and said if White had not been on hand he would have tried to kill her. Other witnesses were heard at the afternoon session.

INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS OF WOMEN.

This was the Subject of an Interesting Address by Miss Bates of Detroit.

Before the Ladies Literary and Study Clubs at the Episcopal Parish House.

Over one hundred members of the Ladies Literary and Study clubs and their friends gathered in the Episcopal Parish house yesterday afternoon and listened to a very able and interesting address by Miss Bates, of Detroit, on "The International Congress of Women, at London."

Miss Bates, who was present at the Congress with the idea of speaking on the subject at some future time, took careful notes on the gathering and paid special attention to those phases of it which would naturally be of particular interest to the ladies of America.

The Congress continued in session several days, and five mammoth meetings were conducted simultaneously, morning, afternoon and evening in five different halls. Miss Bates made no attempt to select special meetings for her own observation, but after a careful examination of the lengthy program of the congress, decided upon one building with its set of gatherings and devoted her entire time to this. As a result she was able to give very accurate and interesting accounts of a fair proportion of the many meetings, and by the aid of the general program, conveyed a good idea of the other phases of the work. Miss Bates read the printed program in its entirety, thus acquainting her audience with the subjects of the meetings; the names of the ladies under whose direction they were conducted by whom the important speeches were made. From the speeches of the ladies of widest reputation she read short extracts.

The circumstance which most impressed Miss Bates in regard to the congress was the fact that so many thousands of women had come to gether from such widely separated portions of the earth. Women of all the civilized lands, the queer, interesting little ladies of Japan and China the placid broad faced matrons from the land of the far north, all gathered together into one vast assembly. The meetings were animated with the greatest earnestness and incalculable good undoubtedly resulted from them.

The great object of the congress was the advancement of its own sex, but one matter of international and universal moment was discussed—arbitration as a substitute for war. Many strong speeches were made on this subject, and the congress pledged itself to work steadily and earnestly for the realization of its hopes in this line.

Preceding the address a vocal solo was rendered by Mrs. Sweet, Miss Louise Allen acting as accompanist; and at its close a duet was sung by Misses Grace Stevens and Lotta Combs, Mrs. Hewitt playing the accompaniment. Before adjourning to their homes the ladies entertained Miss Bates in the Parish house parlors where refreshments were served.

"Freedom" is Quite a Paper.

L. P. Walker has received from his son Clarence in the Philippines a copy of the Christmas edition of the paper, "Freedom." In its every-day garb Freedom presents a creditable appearance, and with its holiday splendor it is fairly dazzling. The sheet consists of 16 pages, has a gaily illuminated cover and contains numerous creditable cuts of persons and places. The Christmas sermon and original Christmas poem are in evidence, also interesting articles on the native Filipinos and the peculiarities of the country; the usual bright up-to-date "city news" and a large number of ads for Manila business houses and transportation lines. In a conspicuous part of the paper, surrounded by a border and set double column, appears the following announcement:

"To all Americans—The management of Freedom wishes to announce that beginning with today this paper will be forwarded without any delay to every point in the Island of Luzon where the United States troops are stationed, either as a part of a movement forward or as a permanent garrison.

Arrangements have been made whereby every convenience in the way of transportation will be taken advantage of by Freedom employees, and no matter where Americans find themselves, there Freedom will be also.

Watch for the newsboy."

An Uneventful Board Meeting

The February session of the board of education was held in the central school office last evening, and was attended by Supt. George and board members, Mrs. Kinnie and Messrs. Sweet, Griffin and Holmes. The meeting was a short one, the business of the evening being but little more than the paying of the monthly bills.

A report was made by the teachers' committee that Miss Estelle Baker had resigned her position in the primary department and had been succeeded by Miss Edna Kopp.

Probate Court.

The Ellis case was again adjourned this forenoon owing to Mr. Gruner breaking down and not being able to take the stand. He has been on the stand five days and under a terrible strain. He looks ten years older than he did three months ago; the case will be taken up tomorrow forenoon when some other witnesses will be put on the stand.

At 3:30 this afternoon Gruner was so ill that his life is despaired of.

A Mysterious Case Recalled.

Among a batch of bills introduced by Henry C. Smith was one providing a pension for Nancy W. Hadley, of 832 East University avenue, on the ground that she is the widow of Capt. Edwin F. Hadley. This will recall to the people of southern Michigan one of the strangest cases of mysterious disappearances ever recorded in the state. Capt. Hadley was one of the foremost citizens of Lenawee county, the people of which had elected him probate judge. One day along about 1880 he went to Detroit where he boarded a steamer, and that was the last seen of him by any human being, so far as his friends and enemies alike have ever been able to learn. It was found that his estate would not entirely make good some of the funds placed in his hands, and for a time it was supposed that he ran away on that account. But it has since been stated that the amount was not large enough to have induced such an action, as Captain Hadley had any number of friends who would have been glad to help him tide over any difficulty of that size, and his friends have consequently scouted the idea that he absconded. In addition, he had a happy family, and it is claimed that if alive he would in any event have made his whereabouts known to them. Further, he was a good soldier, was wounded in the war, and was drawing a good pension when he disappeared. This has ever since been unclaimed. In consequence of all these things, his friends long ago became convinced that he was dead, and his wife applied for a pension as his widow, but it has been denied, because she could not furnish proof of his death. Mr. Smith has accordingly introduced this bill, as Mrs. Hadley is in circumstances to need it very much.

REDNER DISTRICT

The measles patients are improving. Mr. James Albright is not much better. Mr. Horton Davis of Ypsilanti, spent Monday with his brother Geo. Davis. Mr. Ambrose has been drawing logs to the saw mill preparatory to building a new house. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Davis, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hewins and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hammond, last Friday. The voters of Augusta Township met at the ball in Whittaker Monday at 10 o'clock a. m., to discuss and act in regard to the electric road franchise. Rev. H. B. Marsh with the help of his brother Rev. Marsh of Chelsea, will begin a series of revival meetings at the M. E. church, Stony Creek, beginning Tuesday evening. Because of the storm Sunday there were just seventeen present at the morning services, eleven of whom were women and the rest were men. This goes to prove who are the braves to face a storm. The men who staid at home were supposed to have the rheumatism, as one member remarked.

CHERRYHILL.

Arthur Newton is seriously ill. Will Keebs of New Boston called on his friends here this week. Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Elliot returned Monday from their two months' sojourn in Canada. It is reported that an electric road will be put through from Plymouth to Ypsilanti in the spring. The loss of the post office will make no difference in our own affairs. We shall continue doing business just the same. Milo Corwin of Northville was home Tuesday. Milo has secured the position as conductor on the Northville & Wayne Electric road. After the 15th the Cherryhill postoffice will be closed among the things that have been, but are no more. Thetaking up of the bill will not inconvenience those living off the free delivery route as a list of names of the free will be given to the carrier and their mail will be left here. We will secure a permit from the Dept., to use our post office cabinet and boxes will be furnished free. The number of patrons of the creamery has increased to 35 and many more will join the association in the Spring. One of the patrons wished to see if there was anything to be gained by the separating process and gave the matter a test with the following results. In five days they sent to the creamery 265 lbs of milk and from the same amount churned at home he got 6 pounds of butter which would equal a test of two and four-tenths per hundred while the test at the creamery was five and eight-tenths or a loss of one and four-tenths per hundred by home churning beside the labor.

MANIA FOR POISONING

Girl Puts Carbolic Acid in Her Father's Coffee for Revenge.

BELIEVE SHE IS A DEGENERATE.

On One Occasion She Becomes Enraged at Her Father and Puts Poison in a Pail of Beer—She Also Tries to Kill a Friend by Placing Some Kind of Acid in Medicine Because of a Fancied Grudge Against Her—Kept Bad Company.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—Police of the West Chicago avenue station Monday night took into custody Hannah Burns, 19 years old, who has a mania for poisoning people. He father, Frederick Burns, is a carpenter and lives at 352 West Chicago avenue. He admonished her for keeping bad company and she put carbolic acid in his coffee one morning. He grew very sick, but recovered. On another occasion the daughter became enraged at her father's admonition and dumped the contents of a carbolic acid bottle into a pail of beer which she got for him. He detected the odor and didn't drink of the mixture.

Shortly after the father drove his unfaithful girl out of the house, and she has since lived with Mrs. C. H. Hirsch, at 293 Cornell street. Sunday afternoon Mrs. Hirsch came near being a victim of Hannah Burns' wrath. The two went to school together ten years ago, and Mrs. Hirsch says she can think of no other reason why Hannah wanted to kill her, except to pay a grudge which she holds against her for acquainting her father with her manner of living. Mrs. Hirsch is an invalid, Sunday afternoon, she says, Hannah brought her a bottle of medicine which she said would prove a good tonic for her system. Mrs. Hirsch had taken but a few teaspoonsful before her stomach began to burn. Her mother gave her large quantities of milk, and probably saved her life by so doing.

MANIA FOR POISONING PEOPLE.

Chicago Police Believe the Girl is a Degenerate.

"At night, when Hannah came home and found me alive, she showed surprise," said Mrs. Hirsch. "She asked me if I didn't feel sick and laughed, and told me that I was suffering from inflammation of the stomach when I accused her of putting carbolic acid in the medicine. Hannah's father warned me to look out for her when she first came to our house. He told us how she tried to poison him. "She has worked only two weeks in a medicine establishment at La Salle street and Chicago avenue since she boarded at our house. I don't think she got this mania for poisoning people while working there, for the attempts she made on her father's life were before she got this position." While the West Chicago avenue police believe the girl is an utter degenerate, they concluded they had no case of attempted murder against her. The young prisoner was subsequently released from custody. Mrs. Hirsch says she can not live under the same roof with Hannah, for she would not feel safe in eating the food in the house. The doors of her father's house are likewise barred against her, and Hannah has sought living apartments.

CANNOT PROVE MURDER.

Men Held Charged with Killing West Superior Man Released.

West Superior, Wis., Feb. 7.—Nels Johnson and Emil Peterson, the last two of the seven persons held here to answer for the murder of Abraham Carlson, have been released. The district attorney has about decided that it is a hopeless task to attempt to get at the bottom of the affair, notwithstanding the fact that it was committed in the heart of the city and that several persons were arrested. Although the two just released of the murder charge are not held for further implication, they must stay in custody or give bail to appear as witnesses when the trial of three of the others for alleged perjury comes up. The district attorney believes that, although he cannot prove murder against any of them, he has a clear case of perjury on account of the statements made by the three on the coroner's witness stand.

Receives Help from Relatives.

Racine, Wis., Feb. 7.—Henry F. Corbett, the man accused of shooting Rev. and Mrs. D. B. Cheney and who has been confined in the St. Luke's hospital on account of sickness, received letters from his sister and her husband, who live in Kent, England. One of the letters contained a draft for an amount of money, to be used in his defense and which is made out to the order of "Henry Joseph Fulgan Dakin," which is the real name of the man. The letter written by the sister is a very touching one, and when Corbett read it he wept like a child.

Can Wear Male Attire.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 7.—Mrs. Jack McCune, a local character, was arrested on the streets for masquerading in male attire as a detective. She had documents and a badge and appeared to think she was a full-fledged officer. A search of the statutes today revealed the lack of a special law to prevent women from wearing men's clothes and she was charged with disorderly conduct. The judge suspended sentence on condition that she behave herself.

TRAIN ROBBER IDENTIFIED.

Northwestern Railroad Employee Recognized "Pat" Crowe.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—"Pat" Crowe, who was arrested Monday night, charged with robbing the Chicago and Northwestern railway train at Tower W, forty-six miles west of Chicago, on the night of Oct. 13, was positively identified yesterday by James White, the engineer, Charles James, operator at tower W, the fireman of the engine, and the express messenger also identified Crowe. He was turned over to Sheriff Dimmick, of Kane county. It is now generally admitted that the amount stolen on that night was $100,000, instead of $10,000, as was originally given out by officials of the American Express company.

During the three months interim Crowe has been shadowed constantly back and forth from his brother's hotel, opposite the Northwestern station, on Wells street, to Omaha, where he acted as the silent conductor of a "King B" gambling house. Captain Lavin and Detectives Sheehan and Burns, of the Stock Yards police station say the bandit played such a high hand with the municipal authorities at Omaha that all efforts to secure their aid in requisition failed, and they were forced to wait patiently for Crowe to set foot on Illinois soil again. "Pat" stepped off a Burlington train, followed by the "shadows" who had become a part of his movements. Crowe got into a carriage and was driven to the hotel of his brother, S. A. Crowe.

A cab continuing the officers followed in the tracks until they had a desperate game to deal with, and they accosted Crowe in the hallway of the Wells street hotel with drawn revolvers. Cornered and knowing the "jig" was up unless he could shoot down his captors, Crowe whipped out a revolver and would have done some shooting but for Detective Burns, who sprang upon him like a cat and wrenched the revolver from his grasp. Captain Lavin and Detective Sheehan quickly handcuffed Crowe and carried him out to the carriage, while Burns held back two of Crowe's friends at the point of the revolver.

Extends Street Car Franchise.

Marquette, Mich., Feb. 7.—The common council at its last meeting passed the street car franchise extending ordinance adding nine years to the franchise, making it good until 1925. The ordinance becomes void at the end of this year unless the president and secretary of the company file sworn statements that at least $20,000 has been extended on track extensions, increase of power and other improvements. The company made arrangements to float $70,000 new bonds, $30,000 to retire outstanding issue. The rest will be spent on additional power and building about five miles more track.

Lungs and Long Life.

One of the most remarkable cases of longevity on record was that of an Englishman, born in 1483, whose delicate appearance made all the doctors give him up when he was in the cradle. His chest was so narrow, says the report, that he seemed to have difficulty in breathing. Well, this young moribund, condemned by the doctors to die in short order, died in 1651 at the age of 169. He saw the reign of ten kings.
